Letter text

Dear Mr Peen,

Your letter referred to above has been received and discussed by the Standing Committee for Digital Affairs.

The committee has decided that your letter contains information that may be used during the committee debate on Digital Government and Oversight on 30 September 2026.

Members of the House of Representatives may read your letter in preparation. Members decide for themselves what they do with the information and how they use it. In principle, Members will not address your individual matter during the debate. The committee debate may be followed by a short plenary debate (a two-minute debate).

The committee debate is public. You may therefore attend in person or follow it live at www.tweedekamer.nl or through the Debat Direct app. You may also watch the debate later at debatdirect.tweedekamer.nl.

On behalf of the committee, thank you for sending your letter.

Note: The agenda of the House of Representatives changes regularly as a result of current developments. Debates may therefore be rescheduled or cancelled, sometimes at short notice. Please check the website of the House of Representatives for the latest changes.

Yours sincerely,

The clerk of the Standing Committee for Digital Affairs,

L. Boeve

This independent translation was prepared for public information. It was not issued by the House of Representatives and does not replace the Dutch source letter. The Dutch original remains authoritative. The recipient's personal email address has been removed.
